STEP INTO CHINATOWN

What was once the first Chinese Opera House on the East Coast now houses contemporary Chinese restaurant, Chinese Tuxedo, and lively cocktail bar, Peachy's.

The split-level space was the headquarters for Chinatown's notorious Tong wars in the early 1900's and has been thoughtfully restored, incorporating midcentury touches while retaining historical details such as the original pillars, stripped-down walls and now-sealed secret tunnel entryways.

The kitchen executes a flavorful, eclectic Chinese Banquet style menu complemented by inventive cocktails, a dynamic wine list and a selection of Chinese and American craft beers.

5 Doyers Street is comprised of two unique spaces Chinese Tuxedo and Peachy's. Each venue can be booked separately or together for private events. We host everything from seated dinners to speakeasy-style cocktail parties, or a consider a combination of both to create one beautiful memorable evening for you and your guests.

CHINESE TUXEDO

Chinese Tuxedo is the largest dining and reception space in our venue.

The sunken dining room features 15-foot ceilings and is outfitted with cozy banquettes, Carrara marble tables, and a sculpture by artist John Duff. The room is thoughtfully decked out with palm trees, candles, and fully-restored original walls dating back 100 years.

The space is popularly used for lively, premium private and corporate events. The room can be cleared of furniture to create a grand space for a cocktail reception and dance floor, or keep them as they are and enjoy a curated Chinese inspired banquet dinner.

When buying out Chinese Tuxedo exclusively you'll not only have access to the dining floor but the additional space of the bar, mezzanine level and The Moon Room.
