SONIA V PHOTO

2025/2026

The kind of images you'll be itching to display and heart warmed to look back on for many years.

SONIA'S PHILOSOPHY

Our wedding photography clients trust us because we believe in the value of wedding photos as a tool for sharing joy and connection with their friends, family (and eventually, maybe even grand-babies). But we also believe that the actual wedding and the celebrations of the vows they're making to each other is even more important.

My work is inspired by postcards of places once visited, the letters written between my parents before they were married, and the tiny gestures of genuine affection that can so easily go unnoticed.

You're here because you want a photographer who will capture beautiful, thoughtful images of your wedding day. But you don't want them to stop there, you also want photos that reflect the true, beautiful story of your day, without the awkward posing or having your wedding day feel more like a photoshoot than a celebration.

We had an amazing experience working with Sonia as she photographed our wedding this summer and an engagement session earlier this year.

She took the time to get to know us as a couple and understand what was most important to us on our wedding day. She also had so many helpful tips and advice for us leading up to the wedding, including helping us get the timeline and pace of the day just right.

When we got our wedding photo gallery back, we were blown away. Her documentary-style photography was exactly what we'd been looking for and we couldn't have been happier with how the photos came out! Sonia has a keen ability to capture special moments between people, not to mention her talent in composing a beautiful image. We would absolutely recommend SVP to anyone looking to have their wedding captured through real, candid moments.

AMANDA & CONNOR

Sonia and her assistant Rachel were a dream team from the start. Their kindness and professionalism shone through from our very first meeting. Sonia asked all the right questions to ensure we'd be a great match, and it was clear she wanted our experience to be as personal as it was professional. When it came to our engagement shoot and wedding day, Sonia was incredibly fast at delivering sneak peeks.

Her documentary style of photography was exactly what we were looking for—she captured every important moment as it naturally unfolded, without ever over staging or posing us. The authenticity of her photos blew us away.

As a couple who's usually camera-shy, Sonia was able to make use feel very comfortable, providing just the right amount of direction to help us relax, without making us feel over-posed.

Sonia was not only a fantastic photographer but also a great help with our timeline, ensuring we didn't miss a single photo we wanted. From the get-go, she invested time in getting to know us, making the whole experience feel incredibly personalized. We can't recommend Sonia enough for anyone looking for authentic, documentary-style wedding photography.
